PRICE CEILING CONTROL SEEN AS NECESSITY

MODIFIED OPA FOR ANOTHER YEAR IS RECOMMENDED

Washington, March 7 (AP)—Modified extension of the Price Control Act for another year, and maintenance of existing federal income tax rates, were recommended today by the House post-war economic policy committee.

The committee, headed by Rep. Colmer (D-Miss.), cautioned that effective control of inflationary forces will be "impossible without the aid of strong fiscal and monetary counter measures."

The group filed its ninth report with Congress as Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson told the House Banking Committee the world food shortage makes it imperative to continue price controls and subsidy payments to hold down food costs in this country. The banking committee is considering legislation to extend the price control law another year beyond June 30.

Inflation Feared

James F. Brownlee, deputy to Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles, told the committee that a deputy soon will be appointed in OPA with the one responsibility of taking off price ceilings as supply comes into balance with demand.

After prolonged study, the post-war committee said, it reached the conclusion that summary removal of wartime controls "would most likely result in ruinous inflation and would react unfavorably not only to the wage earners and consumers, but to business itself."

The committee tied to its recommendation for price control extension the following proposed amendments:

1. Establish the best three years of the period of 1936-40 instead of the years 1936-39 as the base period for calculation of how much prices shall be increased above March, 1942, ceilings, to compensate for added costs.
2. Establish the average of the best three years of the period 1936-40 as the base for application of the "earnings standard" except for situations in which the results would be inequitable.
3. In the case of essential products at the low end of a producer's price scale (A) allow industry current cost plus at least a reasonable profit (preferably historical margins) to manufacturers on a list of items designated jointly by CPA and OPA; and (B) permit retailers to pass on in full any dollar increase resulting from these concessions, and percentage increases where margins are already tight.
4. In the case of other products, substitute for the present "product standard" the requirement that prices be raised at least to the

Detective Jailed For Contempt Free

Mason, Mich., March 7 (AP)—Thomas B. Crawford, Grand Rapids private detective, today was released from the Ingham county jail at the expiration of his 60-day contempt of court sentence, less 10 days good time allowance.

Crawford was sentenced by Circuit Judge Louis E. Coash, the Ingham county one-man grand jury, on charges of ignoring a subpoena to appear and answer questions concerning a charge that attempts had been made to influence a jury drawn for the liquor conspiracy trial of Frank D. McKay and four co-defendants.

Lower Michigan Areas Flooded; Snow And Cold Forecast In Peninsula

(By The Associated Press)

Flood-swollen rivers, aggravated by rainfalls and a partial breakup of ice jams, overran highways and menaced homes and business places in scattered sections of the state Thursday.

The state highway department reported two sections of trunkline highways closed because of flood waters, while at Mt. Pleasant dynamite was used to break up an ice jam which damaged the Chippewa river bridge.

Many residents of lowland areas, especially in the region of Grand Rapids and Holland, had evacuated their homes because of the rising waters, while scores of others stood by to move if the necessity developed.

The Chippewa and Tittabawassee rivers already had passed flood stage and the Grand river at Grand Rapids headed towards the 15 foot flood mark there. Officials said the three rivers probably would begin receding Saturday, provided there was no further heavy rains.

An estimated $10,000 damage was caused by ice packs and flood waters which washed out the central support pillar of the Chippewa river bridge at Mt. Pleasant, dropping the floor of the 130 foot bridge more than 22 inches.

Dynamite was used at a score of points to break up ice jams and Island Park and hundreds of acres of lowlands in the area east of Mt. Pleasant were under water.

Colder weather was to the fore again for today (Friday) as Michigan's temperatures continued their shifting ways.

Increasing cloudiness and light snow, and decidedly colder temperatures were in prospect for Lower Michigan, the weather bureau at Detroit reported, in the wake of warm weather which prevailed generally yesterday.

Temperature readings were in the 40's in the lower peninsula yesterday, with the mercury reaching 52 at Detroit late in the afternoon. Only a few scattered showers were reported, the weather bureau said.

Soviet Observers To Sit In At Conference Near Savannah, Ga.

BY STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, March 7 (AP)—Russia belatedly decided today to take part in the international monetary conference.

United States officials were elated at the decision, although the Soviet group will sit only as observers, along with eight other powers which have not yet ratified the Bretton Woods agreements creating an international bank and monetary fund.

The Russians had ignored for months an invitation to the conference of 35 member countries opening tomorrow on Wilmington Island, near Savannah, Ga.

An embassy spokesman said he did not know whether Russia might seek membership in the fund and bank, as at least two other late comers—Denmark and Panama—are expected to do.

High government officials revealed this week that only if Russia agrees to cooperate with the United Nations in this and other economic matters will this country consider her request for a $1,000,000 loan.

The Russian delegation will be headed by Prof. Fedor Bystrov, economic adviser to the Russian purchasing commission. Space on the special train was reserved for five persons.

The United States is sending 26, headed by Secretary of the Treasury Vinson, who also is the United States governor on the international monetary fund and the international bank for reconstruction and development.

THREAT OF RAIL WALKOUT FADES

Fact-Finding Machinery Invoked By Truman To Bar Strike

Washington, March 7 (AP)—The threat of a railroad strike on Monday faded away today as President Truman invoked the fact-finding machinery in that industry which he proposes for others.

The White House announced that the president will appoint a fact-finding panel in the rail wage dispute "very shortly." Under the railway mediation act, this will automatically bar a strike for 30 to 60 days.

The Brotherhoods of Railroad Trainmen and of Locomotive Engineers had scheduled a progressive strike against 384 railroads and terminals to start at 6 a. m. Monday.

An arbitration board in Chicago has been hearing the dispute between the labor groups and the railroads. The non-operating brotherhoods seek a wage increase of 30 cents an hour and the operating groups are asking a boost of $2.50 a day.

Dr. H. J. Parmelee of the Association of American Railroads told the board during the day that freight rates would have to be increased 36.8 per cent to meet the wage demands.

DROGGED OUT GM STRIKE IN ITS 108TH DAY

SENATE COMMITTEE MAY INVESTIGATE SITUATION

Washington, March 7 (AP)—The long-threatened nationwide telephone strike definitely was called off today.

Operators already were leaving their switchboards and picket lines were forming at scattered points when the union ordered the walkout canceled 25 minutes before the 6 a. m. deadline. An agreement on a new wage formula granting $5 to $8 weekly increases to some 250,000 phone workers had been reached shortly before under all-night pressure by the U. S. Conciliation Service.

The executive board of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, independent, ordered the strike canceled five minutes after a "pattern" contract had been signed with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company by its long lines affiliate.

The walkout had been called by the long lines union and 16 other affiliated unions. Thirty-four other NFWT units had been instructed to observe picket lines.

Delayed receipt of the union's notice, or premature walkouts, caused service interruptions in Washington, Philadelphia, Oklahoma City and parts of Maryland, Texas and Michigan. Picket lines were set up in several cities.

Edgar L. Warren, chief of the U. S. Conciliation Service, called the new wage rates a national pattern in his announcement of the settlement. The increases will date back to February 1, 1946, and the rates will remain in effect until March 6, 1947.

Joseph A. Beirne, NFWT president, in his telegram to local unions cancelling the strike, said that member unions which had wage disputes with the A.T.&T. were "in general agreement with the settlement."

Seizure Not Considered

Shortly before the second meeting, Schwellessbach told reporters: "I don't intend to attempt to make up my mind today on what ought to be done. Dewey brought me a whole sheaf of papers to read. This is too important to decide without reading the transcript of the negotiations and other papers. I expect to take the papers home, read them tonight, and come to a conclusion tomorrow."

Schwellessbach summoned Dewey, the veteran peace maker, to Washington for a progress report after the General Motors corporation and the United Auto Workers (CIO) had come to a deadlock in their negotiations under Dewey's guidance in Detroit.

Holding an impromptu news conference, Schwellessbach said Dewey is "not being replaced" as mediator in the dispute. He said Dewey plans to be back in Detroit Friday and meet again with the union and the company.

Replying to questions, Schwellessbach said no consideration is being given to governmental seizure of General Motors plants.

The White House said there was no prospect of presidential action on an appeal from the Detroit city council for intervention by Mr. Truman.

The situation was described as one for labor department action.

House Committee Begins Search For Foreign Spy Suspects

Washington, March 7 (AP)—The House committee on un-American activities began a search today for foreign spies it declared are trying to steal America's atom bomb secrets.

Chairman John S. Wood (D-Ga.) told newsmen a lengthy inquiry by committee aides had disclosed the attempts and the group is now seeking more detailed information about suspects.

He said the committee is prepared to "name some names" of individuals who should be questioned, but added that complete evidence has not as yet been obtained against anyone.

Wood declined to say what nation or nations the committee believes to be involved.

Asked specifically if Russia is involved, Wood said he is "not in a position to answer." Asked if the investigation showed any connection between the reported theft efforts here and those recently announced in Canada, Wood replied: "I don't know. I'm not sure just what agents were at work up there."

Wood said the committee is co-operating with other government agencies in the investigation. Aides said both War Department and FBI officials are being informed of all information obtained.

Five Senators and two House members attended today for a brief session, ordered by the constitution to permit last minute corrections to laws and to receive messages from the governor.

White House Wary

Meanwhile the Detroit city council awaited a reply from the White House on its appeal to President Truman to intervene in the stubborn labor-management battle.

In Washington it was said there

Tattered Housing Bill Tossed Over To Senate

BY WILLIAM T. PEACOCK

Washington, March 7 (AP)—The tattered remnants of the administration's housing bill received final House approval today and were tossed to the Senate.

A fight is expected to be made in the later chamber to bring the measure more in line with President Truman's views.

House passage was by a vote of 357 to 24 with the opposition votes coming from 19 Republicans and five Democrats. Before the final vote, Rep. Jessie Sumner (R-Ill.) moved to send the bill back to committee which would in effect have killed it altogether. This lost 304 to 76.

The administration's original measure called for a broad grant of authority for the housing director to pay up to $600,000,000 in subsidies to producers of building materials if he determined the payments were necessary to increase supplies.

This, and proposed ceiling prices on existing homes, were two key provisions knocked from the measure by the House. Wilson Wyatt, housing expediter, declared that without them the legislation could not achieve its goal of stimulating construction of 2,700,000 new homes.

Here are the major provisions of the bill as passed by the House:

A $1,000,000,000 increase in authority for government agencies to insure home mortgages.

Continuation until June 30, 1947, of powers to order scarce building materials channeled into construction of low-cost homes.

Preference for veterans in the purchase or rental of new homes.

Price ceilings on new houses.

Authority for the housing expediter to issue directives to other agencies, including OPA, on prices of building materials.

Authorization for the expediter to control export of lumber so scarce as American supplies are

JAPS TO HOUSE ALLIED STAFFS

Homes For About 20,000 Families Ordered Constructed

Tokyo, March 7 (AP)—General MacArthur today ordered the Japanese government to construct and maintain homes for approximately 20,000 families of occupying American and Allied forces in Japan.

Tentative plans called for two and three-bedroom cottages and duplexes, with 900 to 1,500 square feet of floor space and equipped with American-style plumbing and cooking facilities. All will be designed on five or six basic floor plans with varying exteriors.

Families arriving in Japan before the homes are completed will be housed temporarily in rehabilitation apartments and office buildings, said Lt. Col. L. M. Etherton, GHQ engineer.

The homes will be arranged in community fashion, in groups of from 50 to 500 units. Each will include recreational school, service and playground facilities.

Meanwhile, Japan's new constitution draft met varied reaction from Japanese sources.

The Communist party launched the strongest public attack on the document. A statement declared that the draft "distorts the democratic awakening of the people" because it preserves the emperor system. It said the renunciation-of-war clause might be no more effective than the Versailles treaty was in the case of Germany if the emperor system remains, because "a Hitler may arise in Japan."

PAYROLL UP 5 MILLION

Detroit, March 7 (AP)—Telephone service in Michigan was normal tonight after the Michigan Federation of Telephone Workers went along with the settlement reached by the National Federation of Telephone Workers and the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Michigan Bell Co. officials said, however, that about 18 percent of its workers went through with the walk-out, pending official notification of the settlement, but returned before service was impaired seriously.

The agreement, reached just a half hour before the scheduled nationwide walkout at 6 a. m. Thursday, provides operators with raises of from $26 to $31 for starting rates, and from $38 to $45 for top rates.

Plant workers receive increases of from $26 to $31 for starting rates and from $67 to $75 in top weekly rates. Building service employees receive across the board raises of $5 weekly.

The increases will add $5,000,000 to the annual payroll, company officials said, and will be retroactive to Feb. 13, when the 40-hour week was re-established.

PAULEY FIGHTS SCANDAL STORY

Oil Man Appointed By Truman Defends His Political Record

Washington, March 7 (AP)—Edwin W. Pauley, President Truman's choice for undersecretary of the Navy, squared away today for a personal rebuttal of charges made against him over five weeks of hearings before the senate naval affairs committee.

He was promised all the time he wanted tomorrow to develop what he calls his "affirmative case" for confirmation.

Reports persisted, however, that after laying his side of the story before the senators he will agree to withdraw, probably before Sunday.

Pauley, a 6-foot-4 California oil operator who formerly was Democratic national treasurer, laid the groundwork for tomorrow's appearance by issuing a statement asking: what's wrong with appointing an oil man to office?

"When the chips were down, when freedom and democracy throughout the world hung precariously in the balance, President Roosevelt and Secretary Ickes called oil men to produce, process and distribute the oil so essential to victory," Pauley said.

Then he asked: "If men in the oil business were good enough, experienced, skilled, energetic and patriotic enough to hold high government posts during the war crisis, *** what *** is wrong with them now?"

Pauley said he would like to have an explanation of that.

Outlook Improved For Woolen Cloth Supply This Year

Washington, March 7 (AP)—A cautiously hopeful note on production of wool cloth for civilians this year was sounded by the commerce department tonight with these predictions:

1. Light weight fabrics probably will be in "relatively plentiful supply."
2. Because of lessened military demand, merely equaling last year's output of woolen-worsted goods will increase the quantity of that cloth available for civilians by more than 60 per cent.
3. Total production of wool cloths in 1946 will be 400,000,000 to 500,000,000 yards compared with 496,000,000 in 1945 and 529,000,000 yards in 1944, when military demand was high.

The forecasts were made in an article in the department's monthly publication analyzing the woolen industry.

Grocer Found Sane, Must Stand Trial For Slashing Girl

Detroit, March 7 (AP)—Frank Lobaido, 29, a grocer accused of the assault and rape of seven-year-old Rosalie Giganti, was held for trial today after a three-man recorder found him sane.

Recorder's Judge W. McKay Skillman said the trial date will be fixed later. The defendant has been held under $100,000 bond.

Lobaido has denied any knowledge of the attack on the girl, whose throat was slashed. She is near recovery.

Following his appearance before Judge Skillman, Lobaido was arraigned before Judge John J. Maher. He stood mute and a plea of innocent was entered for him.

SOVIET UNION TOLD TO LIVE UP TO TREATY

TROOPS ON PERSIAN SOIL MENACE TO WORLD PEACE

Washington, March 7 (AP)—The United States tonight called upon Russia to live up to its agreements and get out of Iran immediately.

The state department made public the note delivered to Moscow yesterday. It said that the United States "cannot remain indifferent" to the Soviet decision to keep troops in Iran. And it asked an answer "promptly."

In the 650-word document, the U. S. declared that the Russian action was contrary to the assurances of the American-British-Soviet declaration of Tehran in 1943, and expressed "earnest hope" that the Soviet Union would withdraw all forces immediately from Iran.

No Consent Asked

Such a withdrawal, the U. S. said, would "promote the international confidence which is necessary for peaceful progress among the peoples of all nations."

It closed with a request that the Soviet Union notify the U. S. promptly of its decision on the matter and said this country hoped that verdict would "be in accord with the views herein expressed."

The note was delivered at the Russian foreign office by George Keenan, U. S. charge d'affaires in Moscow, on instruction of Secretary of State Byrnes.

The note said this government had been informed that the Soviet decision to keep its troops in the Middle Eastern country had been made without the consent of the Iranian government.

It added that its information indicated that Soviet troops were remaining on Iranian territory despite the protests of the Iranian government.

Then the note reviewed in detail the British-Russian-Iranian treaty of January 29, 1942, which pledged that all British and Soviet troops would be withdrawn from Iran six months after the end of the war.

Contrary To Pact

"In the opinion of the government of the United States, the maintenance of troops in Iranian territory by any one of the three signatories to that declaration, without the consent and against the wishes of the government of Iran, is contrary to the assurances contained in that declaration," the note declared.

The U. S. understood from this statement that it was the intention of Russia to withdraw all its troops not later than March 2, six months after the date of the Japanese surrender last September 2, the note said.

The note said it was "generally accepted" during the UNO Security Council session in London that retention of troops by one member of the United Nations on the territory of another, without consent, was "not in accordance with the principles of the United Nations."

It added that Security Council members generally had accepted the belief that withdrawal of such troops "should not be made contingent upon other issues."

In expressing the hope of a speedy withdrawal of Soviet troops, the U. S. note said it was acting "in the spirit of the friendly association which developed between the U. S. and the Soviet Union in the successful effort

1400 County Men Still In Service, Local Board Reveals

More than 2500 Delta county service men have been discharged from the military forces but the county still has upwards of 1400 men in the armed services, the local draft board revealed yesterday.

During the month of February 250 Delta county men were discharged and 204 of this group were previously registered with the local draft board. In general the remainder were men who enlisted for military service before attaining draft age.

A total of 2248 draft board registrants have been discharged to date and 255 non-registrants have been discharged since Nov. 1. The local board did not make a compilation of discharged non-registrants prior to Nov. 1.

The records of the local board indicate a total of 1536 registrants still in military service, but this number includes approximately 100 service men who were killed in action or died in service whose records have not yet been cleared.

Dr. LaVictoire, Jan Prisoner For Three Years, Dies

Dr. Isaac Newton LaVictoire, former psychiatrist for the Michigan department of corrections and a prisoner of war of the Japanese for almost three years, died suddenly of coronary thrombosis in the home of his wife's parents in Pigeon, Mich., at 3 o'clock last Saturday afternoon.

Well-known throughout the middle west as an institutional psychiatrist, Dr. LaVictoire, who was 43 years old, had been stationed at Kalamazoo state hospital before joining the department of corrections in 1938. He was employed as resident psychiatrist at Ionia house of correction and at Jackson state prison, visiting the Marquette branch prison periodically from 1938 until early in 1941.

Holding a reserve commission of lieutenant, senior grade, he entered naval service before the war started and was stationed at Cavite naval base outside Manila for about five months when the Japs invaded the Philippines.

BY JOSEPH C. GOODWIN
Tehran, March 7. (AP)—Three persons were killed and five wounded in a new outbreak of street fighting between leftists and rightwing elements today as Russia's intentions in northeastern Iran remained clouded.

The new riots, the fourth outbreak in four days, came as Prince Firouz, director of propaganda, denied a war ministry statement that Iranian troops had been halted by the Russians east of Tehran.

Gen. Sepehrd Amir Ahmed, minister of war, insisted, however, that "Our troops have been held up since Wednesday by Russian troops" at Garmasr, a desert post 60 miles east of the capital.

Today's street fighting took place in the bazaar district after mounted police and gendarmes, with fixed bayonets, prevented leftist Tudeh party members from demonstrating in Parliament Square where rioting in the past three days had hospitalized eight persons.

Meanwhile, 1,500 motorized Iranian troops, including an artillery battery, camped at Veramin, 20 miles southeast of Tehran, after leaving here two days ago to occupy three towns which were thought to have been evacuated by the Russians.

Meanwhile, no further word was received from Moscow on negotiations between Premier Ahmed Quavam Es Saltaneh and Soviet officials.

KILLED BY TRAIN

COUNCIL HARD ON GAMBLING

Warn Club Licensees, Main Street Gets Traffic Signals

Private club liquor licensees were lambasted last evening by the last action of the session by the city council. It was agreed by the council that in the very near future, after the necessary checking with the Michigan liquor control commission, they will go on record as saying:

"If club licensees wish to retain liquor licenses they must stop slot machines, card games and any form of gambling." They also agreed a housecleaning will be made in such places.

A delegation from the softball association submitted a report to the city fathers asking their support in readying the field for the season's play. Paul Vardigan pleaded the case.

The baseball committee asked for the city's help in erecting their new fence, leveling the diamond, putting in two lights at either entrance, clearing parking space for cars, placing two drinking fountains in the ball park and also laying a water pipe near the diamond for sprinkling purposes and the extension of water and sewer lines for adequate facilities to players and the public. It was decided to have an estimate made of the cost of labor and decide on the matter as a whole item at the next meeting of the council.

Robert LeMire, Tom Beaton and Gerald Cleary, representing interests of the local Office of Veterans Affairs asked a sum of $2,000 as the city's contribution for maintenance of that office the remainder of the year. The budget being read it was decided by the council the office has sufficient funds to carry on a couple of months and their decision to help the local office could wait until a future date.

Two Traffic Lights
A letter from a special Chamber of Commerce committee, signed by F. G. Bode, was read in regards to traffic safety lights for Ludington street and other safety factors in the downtown area. The council agreed to have erected as soon as available, traffic lights at the corners of Tenth and Ludington and Fourteenth and Ludington streets. These are to be of the four-corner light signals as are used on Stephenson ave. The other safety factors are to be referred to in a letter report to Mr. Bode as to the action taken.

Richard Larson was given permission to erect a three car garage 30x36 feet in the 1700 block on First avenue south.

The bid of Harold Meiers Sign Service to put the word ESCANABA in six foot neon letters on two sides of the water tank to publicize the city was accepted. This will cost the city $695. Work will commence May 15 and be completed by June 1.

Lawrence Peterson of 2326 Ludington street asked the council to investigate the nearest fire alarm box for the purpose of having one installed on or near the corner of Ludington and 23rd street. It was pointed out the nearest fire alarm box was at 19th street and Third avenue north.

The council released to the Conservation department lots L. 28 and 29 B. 2, Perrin's addition, for sale.

They placed a date of April 4 for hearing of objections to the consideration of partly closing first block of North 15th street for extension of the Junior high school gymnasium and swimming pool.

In addition to its recommendations on price control, the committee made these suggestions:

1. Present federal income tax rates should be maintained.

2. Government spending should be curtailed.

3. Controls over consumer credit should be continued.

4. The second war powers act should be extended for another year beyond next June 30 to insure American supplies of materials now scarce throughout the world and to maintain inventory controls while the "danger of large-scale speculation in this field remains serious."

were no indications that any immediate White House action was in prospect.

By union estimates the strike to date has cost General Motors employees $120,910,000 in lost wages. The management figured the wage loss at $137,174,000 basing its calculations on a 45.6 hour work week against the union's 40-hour week.

In supplemental charges filed by the union today with the National Labor Relations Board the UAW-CIO contended that the workers' idleness was due to "the unfair labor practices committed by the corporation," and asked that the strikers be compensated for their loss of employment.

Secret Vote Rejected
The union action follows the recent rejection by the management of a UAW proposal that the workers return to their jobs at an increase of 18½ cents an hour while an arbitrator decides other issues, including the union demand for a total increase of 19½ cents an hour.

The union allegations were: That the corporation informed the union it would under no circumstances submit any of the issues to arbitration.

That GM Vice-President Harry W. Anderson charged union leaders with preventing settlement for personal reasons and because of the impending UAW national convention.

That the management gave national publicity to its proposal for a secret vote among GM strikers, and

That the corporation rejected the union's request for a secret vote on both the GM latest offer and its own arbitration proposal.

The GM proposal called for an unconditional return to work at the corporation's latest offer including an 18½ cent an hour wage increase and other contract agreements concerning vacations and the checkoff of union dues.

German Merchant Marine Split Up; One-Seventh Kept
Washington, March 7. (AP)—Britain, Russia and the United States agreed today to let Germany keep approximately one seventh of its remaining merchant marine, and split the balance—1,180,000 gross tons worth $80,000,000—three ways.

The tripartite action on seagoing ships was disclosed in an announcement simultaneously released in London, Moscow and Washington which said the transfers are now taking place.

In pre-war years, Germany's merchant marine ranked fourth in the world—behind Britain, the United States, and Japan. The 200,000 gross tons which will remain in its hands is the equivalent of about 22 American victory ships. Valuation is on the basis of 1938 building prices, less depreciation.

By agreement among the big powers Britain and the United States will provide from their shares of the captured ships "appropriate amounts" to help compensate smaller Allied nations for their wartime shipping losses. Russia, under the agreement, will make provision for Poland.

Cardinal Glennon Is Ill In Dublin, Lungs Congested
Dublin, March 7. (AP)—John Cardinal Glennon, 83, of St. Louis, Irish-born Roman Catholic prelate who has developed "a slight congestion of the lungs," was reported by his physicians to be "very comfortable" at 10:30 p. m. (5:30 p. m. Eastern Standard Time) tonight.

The physicians, who said earlier they were "doing everything possible to arrest and localize the spread of infection," made no further statement.

A medical bulletin said Cardinal Glennon had a "slightly elevated" temperature, but that "the condition of the heart is satisfactory and the general constitutional state good." It added that the Cardinal "rested well last night."

HOLY LAND TRIP IS DISCIBED

City Recreation Director Talks At Methodist W.S.C.S. Meeting

"If you go to the Holy Land an atheist, you will come away a believer," stated George Grenholm, city recreation director in an interesting address before the members of the W. S. C. S. of the First Methodist church at their monthly meeting Thursday afternoon.

During his talk, Mr. Grenholm took his audience on an imaginary trip from Cairo to the Holy Land. Mr. Grenholm speaks with authority on the Middle East, having spent many months there during the war as a Red Cross worker, arranging tours for the service men located in that area.

Vividly describing the hot dry trip through the desert with the thermometer at 115 degrees, Mr. Grenholm gave vivid pictures of the various points of interest along the way, the Suez Canal, the ruins in the desert revealing traces of religion through the centuries, the sand storms, the billions of Oriental flies, and the towns.

Once in Jerusalem the traveler immediately begins to see the places associated with the life and death of Christ: the Mount of Olives, the Garden of Gethsemane, Golgotha, and Calvary. He is privileged to visit the churches that have been erected at the holy places, and to tread with his own feet the paths once trod by Jesus.

From Jerusalem the speaker took his listeners to Bethlehem, and described it as being untouched and undefiled by civilization. The last stop made on the imaginary trip was on the shores of the Sea of Galilee, where the fishermen dress much as they did in the days of Jesus, and fish just as they did then.

Following his talk Mr. Grenholm displayed pictures and other souvenirs of the Holy land to his audience.

RAILWAY CAR IS DEDICATED

C&NW Receives Its First
Postwar Streamlined
Passenger Coach

Milwaukee, Wis. — Christened with a bottle of Milwaukee beer instead of traditional champagne, the first post-war built passenger car to go to any western railroad in America was delivered here Thursday.

The car is a new streamlined passenger coach, the first of 20 soon to be delivered by Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Company to the Chicago & North Western Railroad system and to be placed in immediate service on the road's famous "400" fleet.

R. L. Williams, president of the Chicago & North Western System, revealed that the 20 cars would represent an investment of more than $1,400,000 and would be "added to the '400' fleet, which was first inaugurated by our railroad more than 11 years ago."

"This car is only a beginning; a forerunner of the luxurious railroad travel of the future," declared Robert E. Medland, administrative assistant to the president of Pullman-Standard, in making the presentation. He explained that no railroad passenger equipment had been built during the war years, the carbuilding plants having been needed to produce armament and "yet, during these years, the railroads handled nearly four times their normal passenger traffic with existing equipment and with only half as many employees."

Painted in the familiar yellow and green of the "400" fleet, the new car is 85 feet long and is built of high tensile, low alloy steel of welded construction for maximum safety. Utmost in riding comfort is provided by the use of rubber draft gears, tightlock couplers which eliminate shocks and jars in starting or stopping and four-wheel trucks of coil spring design with roller bearings, unit clasp brakes and vertical shock absorbers.

Interiors are of pleasing pastel shades with simulated leather wall covering. Seating capacity of only 56 makes for maximum rider comfort on soft, reclining and revolving seats, and lighting is individually controlled to each patron's liking. Each car will be provided with a separate, spacious smoking compartment.

Laboratories On Planes Planned

Wright Field, Ohio — Flying weather laboratories, maps and "mock ups" are winning the Army Air Forces latest battle against weather hazards to flying. Col. Ben S. Kelsey, chief of the all-weather flying division of the Air Technical Service Command, declared here today.

"It will not be many days," said Col. Kelsey, "before commercial as well as military aircraft will never be grounded, or landing fields closed to approaching aircraft, because of weather conditions. Flight schedules will be maintained safely."

Airborne laboratories making daily flights, special maps and "mock ups", actual nose sections of aircraft, are all being used in the fight against grounded flights, reported Col. Kelsey.

The laboratory planes carry standard weather recording equipment and special devices to check on particular phases of the weather related to the problems of flying. On daily flights with these planes go not only the normal crew but also meteorologists and engineers to observe the tests and maintain the equipment.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

Tired kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Appeal Net Case To Circuit Court

John Anguilm, Escanaba, district supervisor for the department of conservation, said yesterday that an appeal to circuit court from a decision by Justice Werner Olson has been filed in a civil case in which Anguilm was defendant.

James Krutina, plaintiff in the case, was given a judgment in default totaling $185 and costs of $420. Krutina, a Nahma commercial fisherman, alleged that the conservation department confiscated nine gill nets Nov. 5, 1945, and that his loss in the nets and in earnings since that date totaled $185.

Another case recently appealed for hearing in circuit court was a civil suit against D. H. Raess, Baldwin, former district supervisor for the conservation department here. Roger Williams of Nahma was plaintiff, and received a judgment against Raess.

When the original draft of the U. S. Constitution was displayed at its sesquicentennial celebration in Philadelphia in 1937, it was insured for $500,000.

2500 OUT OF ARMED FORCES

1400 County Men Still In Service, Local Board Reveals

More than 2500 Delta county service men have been discharged from the military forces but the county still has upwards of 1400 men in the armed services, the local draft board revealed yesterday.

During the month of February 250 Delta county men were discharged and 204 of this group were previously registered with the local draft board. In general the remainder were men who enlisted for military service before attaining draft age.

A total of 2248 draft board registrants have been discharged to date and 255 non-registrants have been discharged since Nov. 1. The local board did not make a compilation of discharged non-registrants prior to Nov. 1.

The records of the local board indicate a total of 1536 registrants still in military service, but this number includes approximately 100 service men who were killed in action or died in service whose records have not yet been cleared.

Dr. LaVictoire, Jan Prisoner For Three Years, Dies

Dr. Isaac Newton LaVictoire, former psychiatrist for the Michigan department of corrections and a prisoner of war of the Japanese for almost three years, died suddenly of coronary thrombosis in the home of his wife's parents in Pigeon, Mich., at 3 o'clock last Saturday afternoon.

Well-known throughout the middle west as an institutional psychiatrist, Dr. LaVictoire, who was 43 years old, had been stationed at Kalamazoo state hospital before joining the department of corrections in 1938. He was employed as resident psychiatrist at Ionia house of correction and at Jackson state prison, visiting the Marquette branch prison periodically from 1938 until early in 1941.

Holding a reserve commission of lieutenant, senior grade, he entered naval service before the war started and was stationed at Cavite naval base outside Manila for about five months when the Japs invaded the Philippines.

BY JOSEPH C. GOODWIN

Tehran, March 7. (AP)—Three persons were killed and five wounded in a new outbreak of street fighting between leftists and rightwing elements today as Russia's intentions in northeastern Iran remained clouded.

The new riots, the fourth outbreak in four days, came as Prince Firouz, director of propaganda, denied a war ministry statement that Iranian troops had been halted by the Russians east of Tehran.

Gen. Sepehroddin Amir Ahmed, minister of war, insisted, however, that "Our troops have been held up since Wednesday by Russian troops" at Garmar, a desert post 60 miles east of the capital.

Today's street fighting took place in the bazaar district after mounted police and gendarmes, with fixed bayonets, prevented leftist Tudeh party members from demonstrating in Parliament Square where rioting in the past three days had hospitalized eight persons.

Meanwhile, 1,500 motorized Iranian troops, including an artillery battery, camped at Veramin, 20 miles southeast of Tehran, after leaving here two days ago to occupy three towns which were thought to have been evacuated by the Russians.

Meanwhile, no further word was received from Moscow on negotiations between Premier Ahmed Quavam Es Saltaneh and Soviet officials.

KILLED BY TRAIN

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 7 (AP)—William J. Holwerda, 29, of Grand Rapids, died in a local hospital tonight, a few hours after he was struck by a Grand Trunk freight train while walking beside the tracks. His legs were severed in the accident.

The custom of veiling Moslem women goes back to pre-Islamic days when bands of Bedouins roamed the cities and towns.

COUNCIL HARD ON GAMBLING

Warn Club Licensees, Main Street Gets Traffic Signals

Private club licensees were lambasted last evening as the last action of the session by the city council. It was agreed by all councilmen that in the very near future, after the necessary checking with the Michigan liquor control commission, they will go on record as saying:

"If club licensees wish to retain liquor licenses they must stop slot machines, card games and any form of gambling." They also agreed a housecleaning will be made in such places.

A delegation from the softball association submitted a report to the city fathers asking their support in readying the field for the season's play. Paul Vardigan pleaded the case.

The baseball committee asked for the city's help in erecting their new fence, leveling the diamond, putting in two lights at either entrance, clearing parking space for cars, placing two drinking fountains in the ball park and also laying a water pipe near the diamond for sprinkling purposes and the extension of water and sewer mains for adequate facilities to players and the public. It was decided to have an estimate made of the cost of labor and decide on the matter as a whole item at the next meeting of the council.

Robert LeMire, Tom Beaton and Gerald Cleary, representing interests of the local office of Veterans Affairs asked a sum of $2,000 as the city's contribution for maintenance of that office the remainder of the year. The budget being read it was decided by the council the office has sufficient funds to carry on a couple of months and their decision to help the local office could wait until a future date.

Two Traffic Lights

A letter from a special Chamber of Commerce committee, signed by F. G. Bode, was read in regards to traffic safety lights for Ludington street and other safety factors in the downtown area.

The council agreed to have erected as soon as available, traffic lights at the corners of Tenth and Ludington and Fourteenth and Ludington streets. These are to be of the four-corner light signals as are used on Stephenson ave. The other safety factors are to be referred to in a letter report to Mr. Bode as to the action taken.

Richard Larson was given permission to erect a three car garage 30x36 feet in the 1700 block on First avenue south.

The bid of Harold Meiers Sign Service to put the word of ESCANABA in six foot neon letters on two sides of the water tank to publicize the city was accepted. This will cost the city $695. Work will commence May 15 and be completed by June 1.

Lawrence Peterson of 2326 Ludington street asked the council to investigate the nearest fire alarm box for the purpose of having one installed on or near the corner of Ludington and 23rd street. It was pointed out the nearest fire alarm box was at 19th street and Third avenue north.

The council released to the Conservation department lots L. 28 and 29 B. 2, Perrin's addition, for sale.

They placed a date of April 4 for hearing of objections to the consideration of partly closing first block of North 15th street for extension of the Junior high school gymnasium and swimming pool.

point of insuring recovery of total costs on any product.

In addition to its recommendations on price control, the committee made these suggestions:

1. Present federal income tax rates should be maintained.
2. Government spending should be curtailed.
3. Controls over consumer credit should be continued.
4. The second war powers act should be extended for another year beyond next June 30 to insure American supplies of materials now scarce throughout the world and to maintain inventory controls while the "danger of large-scale speculation in this field remains serious."

were no indications that any immediate White House action was in prospect.

By union estimates the strike to date has cost General Motors employees $120,910,000 in lost wages. The management figured the wage loss at $137,174,000 basing its calculations on a 45.6 hour work week against the union's 40-hour week.

In supplemental charges filed by the union today with the National Labor Relations Board the UAW-CIO contended that the workers' idleness was due to "the unfair labor practices committed by the corporation," and asked that the strikers be compensated for their loss of employment.

Secret Vote Rejected

The union action follows the recent rejection by the management of a UAW proposal that the workers return to their jobs at an increase of 18 1/2 cents an hour while an arbiter decides other issues, including the union demand for a total increase of 19 1/2 cents an hour.

The union allegations were: That the corporation informed the union it would under no circumstances submit any of the issues to arbitration;

That GM Vice-President Harry W. Anderson charged union leaders with preventing settlement for personal reasons and because of the impending UAW national convention.

That the management gave national publicity to its proposal for a secret vote among GM strikers; and

That the corporation rejected the union's request for a secret vote on both the GM latest offer and its own arbitration proposal.

The GM proposal called for an unconditional return to work at the corporation's latest offer including an 18 1/2 cent an hour wage increase and other contract agreements concerning vacations and the checkoff of union dues.

German Merchant Marine Split Up; One-Seventh Kept

Washington, March 7 (AP)—Britain, Russia and the United States agreed today to let Germany keep approximately one seventh of its remaining merchant marine, and split the balance—1,189,000 gross tons worth $80,000,000—three ways.

The tripartite action on seagoing ships was disclosed in an announcement simultaneously released in London, Moscow and Washington which said the transfers are now taking place.

In pre-war years, Germany's merchant marine ranked fourth in the world—behind Britain, the United States, and Japan. The 200,000 gross tons which will remain in its hands is the equivalent of about 22 American victory ships. Valuation is on the basis of 1938 building prices, less depreciation.

By agreement among the big powers, Britain and the United States will provide from their shares of the captured ships "appropriate amounts" to help compensate smaller Allied nations for their wartime shipping losses. Russia, under the agreement, will make provision for Poland.

Cardinal Glennon Is Ill In Dublin, Lungs Congested

Dublin, March 7. (AP)—John Cardinal Glennon, 83, of St. Louis, Irish-born Roman Catholic prelate who has developed "a slight congestion of the lungs," was reported by his physicians to be "very comfortable" at 10:30 p. m. (5:30 p. m. Eastern Standard Time) tonight.

The physicians, who said earlier they were "doing everything possible to arrest and localize the spread of infection," made no further statement.

A medical bulletin said Cardinal Glennon had a "slightly elevated" temperature, but that "the condition of the heart is satisfactory and the general constitutional state good." It added that the Cardinal "rested well last night."

HOLY LAND TRIP IS DISCIBED

City Recreation Director Talks At Methodist W.S.C.S. Meeting

"If you go to the Holy Land an atheist, you will come away a believer," stated George Grenholm, city recreation director in an interesting address before the members of the W. S. C. S. of the First Methodist church at their monthly meeting Thursday afternoon.

During his talk, Mr. Grenholm took his audience on an imaginary trip from Cairo to the Holy Land. Mr. Grenholm speaks with authority on the Middle East, having spent many months there during the war as a Red Cross worker, arranging tours for the service men located in that area.

Vividly describing the hot dry trip through the desert with the thermometer at 115 degrees, Mr. Grenholm gave word pictures of the various points of interest along the way, the Suez Canal, the ruins in the desert revealing traces of religion through the centuries, the sand storms, the billions of Oriental files, and the towns.

Once in Jerusalem the traveler immediately begins to see the places associated with the life and death of Christ: the Mount of Olives, the Garden of Gethsemane, Golgotha, and Calvary. He is privileged to visit the churches that have been erected at the holy places, and to tread with his own feet the paths once trod by Jesus.

From Jerusalem the speaker took his listeners to Bethlehem, and described it as being untouched and undefiled by civilization. The last stop made on the imaginary trip was on the shores of the Sea of Galilee, where the fishermen dress much as they did in the days of Jesus, and fish just as they did then.

Following his talk Mr. Grenholm displayed pictures and other souvenirs of the Holy land to his audience.

RAILWAY CAR IS DEDICATED

C&NW Receives Its First
Postwar Streamlined
Passenger Coach

Milwaukee, Wis. — Christened with a bottle of Milwaukee beer instead of traditional champagne, the first post-war built passenger car to go to any western railroad in America was delivered here Thursday.

The car is a new streamlined passenger coach, the first of 20 soon to be delivered by Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Company to the Chicago & North Western Railroad system and to be placed in immediate service on the road's famous "400" fleet.

R. L. Williams, president of the Chicago & North Western System, revealed that the 20 cars would represent an investment of more than $1,400,000 and would be "added to the '400' fleet, which was first inaugurated by our railroad more than 11 years ago."

"This car is only a beginning; a forerunner of the luxurious railroad travel of the future," declared Robert E. Medland, administrative assistant to the president of Pullman-Standard, in making the presentation. He explained that no railroad passenger equipment had been built during the war years, the rebuilding plants having been needed to produce armament and "yet, during these years, the railroads handled nearly four times their normal passenger traffic with existing equipment and with only half as many employees."

Painted in the familiar yellow and green of the "400" fleet, the new car is 85 feet long and is built of high tensile, low alloy steel of welded construction for maximum safety. Utmost in riding comfort is provided by the use of rubber draft gears, tightlock couplers which eliminate shocks and jars in starting or stopping and four-wheel trucks of coil spring design with roller bearings, unit clasp brakes and vertical shock absorbers.

Interiors are of pleasing pastel shades with simulated leather wall covering. Seating capacity of only 56 makes for maximum rider comfort on soft, reclining and revolving seats, and lighting is individually controlled to each patron's liking. Each car will be provided with a separate, spacious smoking compartment.

DEADLINE NEAR ON CANDIDATES

Monday Last Day To File
Petitions In City
Council Race

Four candidates for positions on the ballot in the election race for Escanaba city council have filed nominating petitions, and a number of other petition forms are now being circulated for other prospective candidates, City Clerk Carl E. Anderson reported yesterday.

Deadline for receiving nominating petitions, which must be signed by at least 50 qualified voters, is March 12. The city election will be held Monday, April 1.

In the election, Escanaba voters will choose two men to serve as members of the city council for the next four years.

The terms of two council members expire this spring. They are Councilman Peter N. Logan and Councilman Henry Wylie, both of whom are candidates for re-election and have filed nominating petitions. Logan resides at 1007 Sheridan Road and Wylie at 620 South Ninth street.

Other candidates who have filed are Ovid J. Provo of 800 Stephenson avenue, and John J. Dubord of 411 South Ninth street.

Two other men have announced their intention to become candidates, and additional petition forms have been issued from the city clerk's office. As the field of candidates develops, it is expected that at least six and possibly eight candidates will have their names on the ballot in the race for two city council positions.

Laboratories On Planes Planned

Wright Field, Ohio — Flying weather laboratories, maps and "mock ups" are winning the Army Air Forces latest battle against weather hazards to flying. Col. Ben S. Kelsey, chief of the all-weather flying division of the Air Technical Service Command, declared here today.

"It will not be many days," said Col. Kelsey, "before commercial as well as military aircraft will never be grounded, or landing fields closed to approaching aircraft, because of weather conditions. Flight schedules will be maintained—safely."

Airborne laboratories making daily flights, special maps and "mock ups", actual nose sections of aircraft, are all being used in the fight against grounded flights, reported Col. Kelsey.

The laboratory planes carry standard weather recording equipment and special devices to check on particular phases of the weather related to the problems of flying. On daily flights with these planes go not only the normal crew but also meteorologists and engineers to observe the tests and maintain the equipment.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys
If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention. The kidneys are nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous wastes stay in the blood. These wastes may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness around the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent uric acid passages with smart, burning stings sometimes show there's something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Appeal Net Case To Circuit Court

John Anguilm, Escanaba, district supervisor for the department of conservation, said yesterday that an appeal to circuit court from a decision by Justice Werner Olson has been filed in a civil case in which Anguilm was defendant.

James Krutina, plaintiff in the case, was given a judgment in default totaling $185 and costs of $4.20. Krutina, a Nahma commercial fisherman, alleged that the conservation department confiscated nine gill nets Nov. 5, 1945, and that his loss in the nets and in earnings since that date totaled $185.

Another case recently appealed for hearing in circuit court was a civil suit against D. H. Raess, Baldwin, former district supervisor for the conservation department here. Roger Williams of Nahma was plaintiff, and received a judgment against Raess.

When the original draft of the U. S. Constitution was displayed at its sesquicentennial celebration in Philadelphia in 1937, it was insured for $500,000.

Rebirth of Japan

FROM the wreckage of war is rising a new freedom for the Japanese people, a freedom built upon human rights never before recognized in the land of the Sun of Heaven.

In place of the tyranny of militarism that has ruled Japan through the medium of the emperor for many years is developing a new charter for Japan. The nobility, even the emperor himself, is shorn of sovereign authority over the people and the military hierarchy is destroyed in its entirety. In its place will come representative government, elected by the people, to rule under a framework of authority that guarantees the human freedoms of thought, conscience, press, religion and speech.

It is tragic indeed that these fundamental human rights and a pattern for peaceful living come to Japan only after a bloody and immensely costly war, but it is significant that the benefits of human rights have been given to the Japanese people because of their defeat. It represents one of the few instances in world history in which a nation gained infinitely more by defeat than it could possibly have ever gained by victory.

True enough, the Japanese people will have to pay dearly for years to come in a material way for their sin of war, but they are being given the opportunity to prove their right to a place in the family of peace-loving nations. If they succeed, not only Japan but the entire world will profit.

Best Hunting State

MICHIGAN led the union in the number of legal hunters who roamed the woods during the past fiscal year ending June 30, 1945, in their quest for deer, partridge and other game.

A report issued recently by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that 784,604 hunting licenses were issued during the year in this state. Pennsylvania, long famous as a hunting region, was second with 607,096.

South Dakota's much-publicized pheasant hunting has begun to yield rich dividends, for that state has jumped from tenth to third place in revenues from hunting licenses, the increase being from $465,602 to $1,087,122. Non-resident pheasant hunters alone took out 45,755 licenses during the 1944 hunting season.

The revenue received from the sale of licenses is only a small part of the picture, however. Non-resident hunters brought much new money into North Dakota, paying it out for gasoline, board and lodging in hotels and farmhouses, and for various hunting supplies.

Pheasant hunting is to North Dakota what the annual deer season is to northern Michigan communities. The red-coated army which comes northward across the Straits and the Wisconsin-Michigan border creates a spurt of business that is reminiscent of the summer tourist rush. Fall hunting offers one of the best opportunities of extending the recreation business beyond the traditional Labor Day closing of the tourist season.

No Military Alliance

WINSTON Churchill's advocacy of a military alliance between the United States and Great Britain to implement the United Nations Organization could hardly serve the noble purpose outlined by the wartime prime minister of Britain as long as the wide variance exists in viewpoints of the English and American peoples concerning British colonial policy. Neither would it serve to promote the better understanding between Russia and America that is so essential to world peace.

The British exploitation of her far-flung colonies has long been repulsive to Americans who believe in freedom and liberty for all of the people of the world instead of only for those nations with the strongest military forces. Americans, for instance, would never tolerate the use of American bases by British forces sent to subdue the Indonesians or the natives of India or Malaya.

In the sense that military alliance already exists between the United States and Great Britain, such as a common study of war weapons and interchanging of military ideas between the general staffs of the two nations, there is general understanding and approval by the peoples of the two world powers.

A full military alliance, however, goes much further than that and, in effect, serves to obligate each nation in any military action that may be taken by the other against a third power. To this kind of a military alliance proposal, we should take a firm negative stand. In fairness to the wartime prime minister of Britain, it should be noted that he did not suggest a full military alliance between England and America but it is generally agreed that such an alliance would meet Churchill's most expansive hopes.

Industry Shows Interest

REPRESENTATIVES of the lumber, pulp and paper industries of Michigan have organized a forest industries information committee and at a meeting held recently in Lansing pledged themselves to take an active interest in a long range forestry program in this state.

For years, the crusade for reforestation and conservation has been carried on by public agencies, the newspapers, civic organizations and individual conservationists, while the industry most vitally concerned has seemingly remained aloof. In many instances, the industry has acted as if its chief function was to fell the trees and convert them into lumber and forest products.

But in recent years there has been a growing realization on the part of the woods industry that it also must do something to protect its investment, which runs into the millions; that it must promote reforestation if it is to operate for years in the future. The Wisconsin valley paper industry, for instance, has pledged $250,000 for a five-year tree planting project now being directed by Trees for Tomorrow, Inc. Similar programs have been launched in Minnesota and the Pacific Northwest.

Formation of the forest industries information committee in Lansing recently very likely will give impetus to the development of a long-range forestry program in this state. One thing is certain. We cannot grow too many trees in Michigan, for there are millions of idle acres in this state that are suitable for only this purpose.

BIWA in Mississippi

OTHER states and cities have watched with interest the progress being made in Mississippi with that state's plan to attract new industries.

Under the provisions of the Balance Agriculture With Industry Act, Mississippi communities are empowered, with state approval, to issue bonds for building plants which are offered to established industries for operation. The industry can then move into the state without a large investment and by retiring the community's bonds out of its Mississippi earnings can gain ownership of the plant.

Other variations of this basic plan call for the industry leasing plant space under an agreement to maintain an annual payroll at least equal to the amount of the amount of the bond issue for a period of 10 years. It is also possible to pay rent to the community for the use of the plant with an option to buy any time after five years. Under this agreement, any rent paid is deducted from the purchase price.

Since the BAWI Act was put into effect in July, 1944, money has been allocated for the construction of 17 plants employing 3,000 Mississippians. New construction has totaled $1,183,000.

While the Mississippi plan has attracted national attention, it actually is not much different than the program instituted a few years ago by the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and the City of Escanaba. In Escanaba, of course, no bond issues have been resorted to. Escanaba has demonstrated that it is possible to bring in new industries if a community sets its mind on it and really follows through with its plan.

MILK AGAIN AND CHARLIE

(Detroit Free Press)

The Detroit milk strike ended with handshakes all around, the health threat lifted, deliveries resumed and everybody happy.

Everybody, that is, but the long-suffering ultimate consumer who went milkless for more than a week and now must pay the increased price, whatever it turns out to be.

There is no way of making up time and wages lost. There is no way of salvaging the milk that spoiled. And there is no satisfactory explanation of why equitable settlement could not have been reached without a strike.

One figure in the milk impasse is likely to remain in Detroiters' minds for some time. It is Charlie, the milk horse. Charlie hadn't been told about the strike. When his driver didn't show up, Charlie started out alone on the route he had traveled for 15 years. Police found him going the rounds sometime later, probably puzzled in his horse mind, but trying to do his best. Charlie didn't quit. Charlie knew whatever the trouble was, it could be settled just as well if he continued to do his job.

Rudolf Hess was taken ill during the war crimes trial. We can understand how he'd be sick of it all.

Pittsburgh: Thanks for your recent article on the unpopular term "housewife." "Homemaker" is a much nicer term. But I cannot call myself either housewife or homemaker, for you see, my name actually is Elsie Housekeeper!

Little Rock: It might be well to remind Bible readers that the word "prevent," as used in I Thessalonians 4:15, means "come before"; . . . that we which are alive, and remain until the coming of the Lord, shall not prevent them which are asleep."

Answer: Right. Prevent is from the Latin praee, "before," plus venire, "to come."

Lawrence, Kansas: On a recent quiz program, Olin Downs, New York Times music critic, pronounced "intelligentsia" with a hard "g." Any authority for this? —Mrs. R. H.

Answer: Yes; the hard "g" is Merriam Webster's second choice, and Funk and Wagnalls' only choice. Other U. S. dictionaries list both the hard and soft "g."

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—Congress is soon to consider an amendment to the minimum wage act which would boost the hourly wage immediately to 65 cents an hour for millions of wage earners, with successive increases to bring it to 75 cents by 1950. And what is more important, there is a good chance that the proposal will be passed.

The reason it has a good chance is that the administration has put some generalship behind it. So often in the past, the president has sent along a recommendation with his generous good wishes but nothing more.

This time, Chairman Robert Hannegan of the Democratic National Committee went to bat with the help of some of his able young lieutenants. It is an example of the kind of strategy which the administration hopes to employ on other measures that are considered "must" proposals.

—HAS POLITICAL SIGNIFICANCE—
One reason so much steam has been generated behind the proposed minimum wage is because of its political significance in this political year. The amendment backed by the administration would extend the minimums to from 4,000,000 to 6,000,000 workers who are not now covered by the provisions of the act. That adds up to a lot of voters who would have reason to be grateful for benefits received.

The chief new category of workers to be covered would be department-store employees and other white collar workers who hitherto have been excluded under the language of the act. Farm hands will still be excluded. The farm bloc is powerful enough to insure that.

Southern Democrats, with some exceptions, are opposed to the increase. One of the most active opponents is Senator Ellender of Louisiana, who joined with Senator Taft of Ohio, a leading Republican with ambitions beyond the Senate, to back an amendment providing somewhat lower minimums.

At the time the administration proposal was reported out, Ellender declared to reporters that it would put every corner grocery and hardware store in the country out of business. This was promptly challenged by Leo Goodman, Washington representative of the CIO's United Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Employees of America, who pointed out that businesses doing less than $500,000 a year would not be affected.

"You're the man responsible for this bill," Ellender said angrily.

Goodman thanked the Senator, knowing the tribute would do him no harm with his union even if it was not strictly true.

In executive session, members of the Truman administration, one after the other, argued for the bill. Chester Bowles and his predecessor in the office of Economic Stabilization, John Caskey Collet, Reconversion Director John W. Snyder, Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach, and former Secretary of the Interior Ickes went all-out for higher minimum wages.

INFLATION FEARED—

Some members of the Senate Labor Committee expressed the fear that the bill would contribute toward inflation, particularly in industries such as lumber, where labor costs are a major factor and where scarcity has given rise to black markets. Bowles' answer to this was that, where the stabilization director felt wage increases would have inflationary consequences, the provisions of the act could be suspended for a year or six months.

Raised again and again, during the argument in the committee room, was the dilemma of policy for the immediate future, in the midst of a soaring boom, and of policy for the long pull when accumulated dollars will no longer be burning holes in the average American's pockets. Then, as Bowles pointed out, the need will be to maintain purchasing power so that Americans can buy the goods turned out by our productive machine at an ever increasing rate.

But this time, the administration did not rely solely on theoretical arguments. Hannegan and his lieutenants called and wired all Democratic senators, urging them to inform themselves on the issues involved and particularly on the political significance of the minimum wage increase.

The final result may be a compromise. Amendments offered on the floor may cut the initial increase below 65 cents. Knowing the bill is bound to pass in some form, powerful pressure groups are trying to get it pared down.

The point, however, is that the administration has demonstrated it can supply the generalship when necessary. A little more of it would help the President's program.

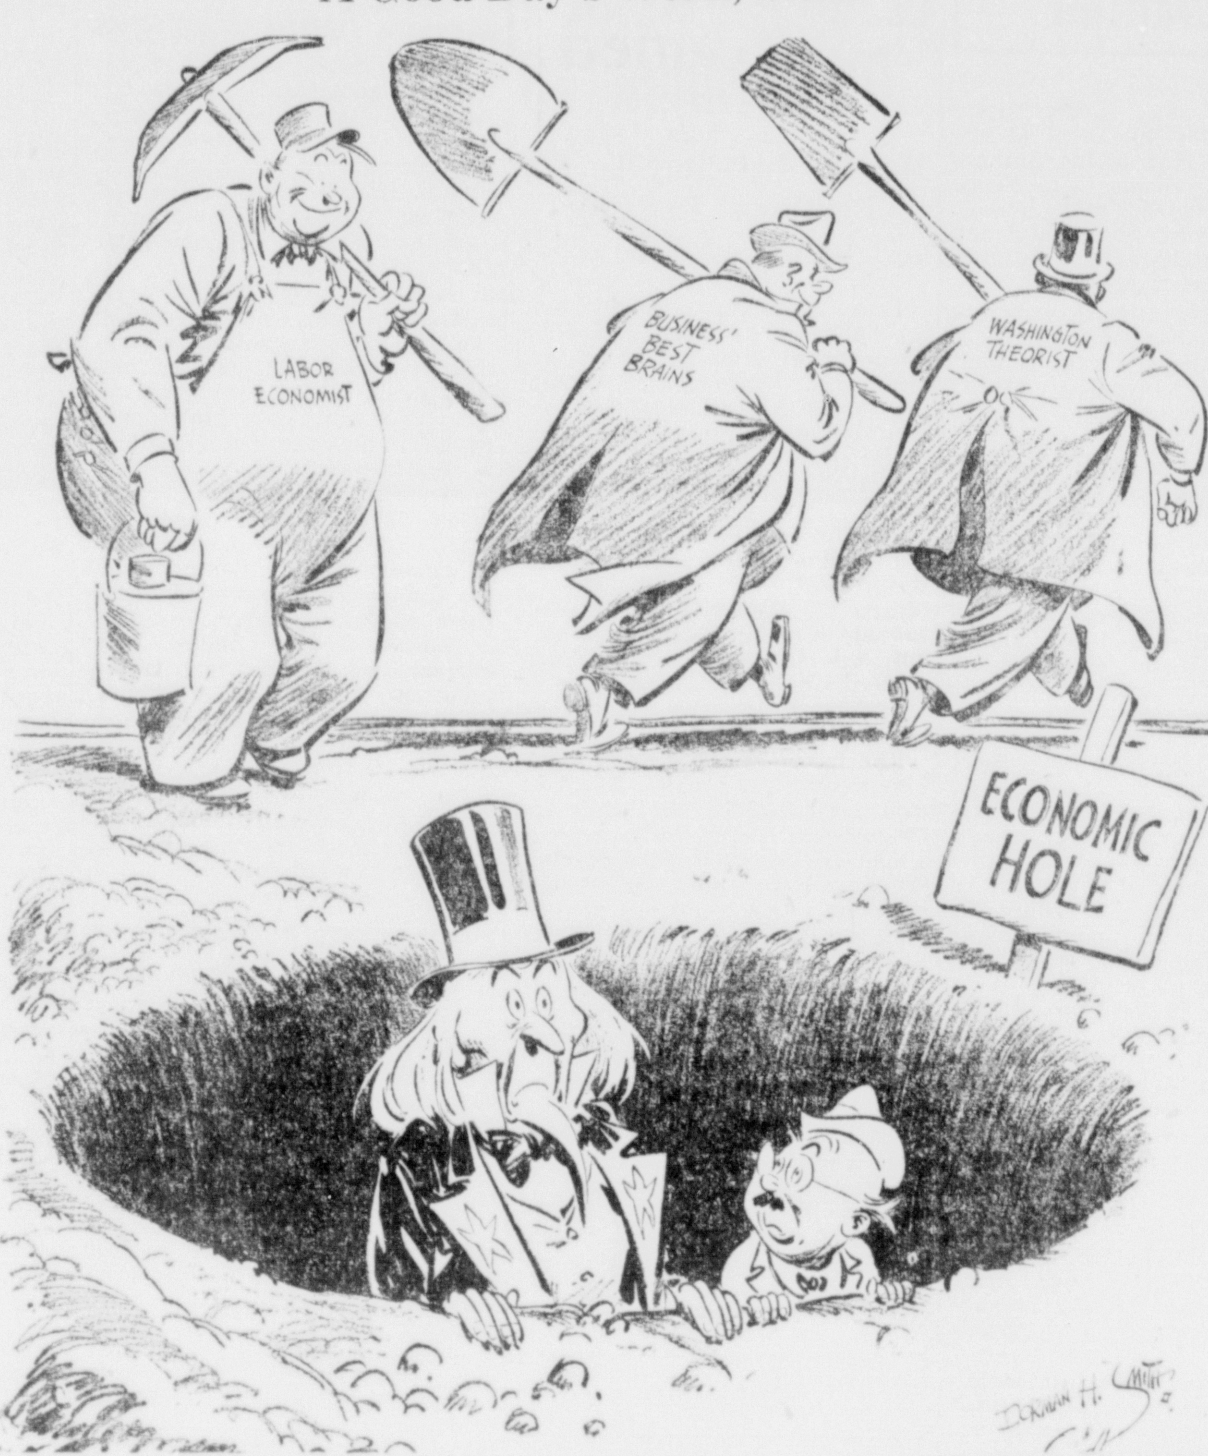

The word intelligentsia is from the Russian intelligentsiya, from the Italian intelligenzia. But, since the form intelligentsia is strictly English, there seems to be no logical reason for trying to make the word sound Russian, especially since the original word is Italian and is pronounced with a soft "g."

The word intelligentsia, as we use it, designates, often derisively, the "intellectual" or high-brow class, as contrasted with us plain Americans. Whenever you hear some American say, "I have been aghast at the vaudeville disaster at the aircraft plant," be sure to make your best kowtow, for you are in the presence of one of the intelligentsia.

This column recommends the pronunciation: in-TEL-i-JENT-see-uh.

A Good Day's Work, Men!

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

MONEY—Money has been called a lot of names, including "filthy lucre," "a medium of exchange," and just plain old "mazzuma." Many people are unacquainted with all the names, and some are even unacquainted with money itself—at least in any quantity.

Being one of the latter, it was rather amazing to hear about the goings-on of those who have too much of the stuff. While chatting with a group of friends (one is employed in a bank and has at least a speaking acquaintance with money), we were told that in Florida the war-rich are paying hotel bellboys as high as $1,500 each for hand-painted neckties. In the room in which we sat, there wasn't a necktie in evidence that would cost more than a couple bucks. It was agreed, therefore, that the bellboys made a profit of approximately $148 per tie.

WHERE YOU FIND IT—The conversation also revealed (although by hearsay) that in the tonier spots of Florida's winter resort section you can get a room in a swank hotel if you bid high enough. The bidding goes up to a "tip" of several hundred dollars to the hotel clerk who can find you a place to park your bags.

Perhaps in the Florida locale you might expect to find money floating freely, although there is a rumor that the Florida tourist promotion committee is preparing to ban trailer tourists from the state. All things considered, the man who goes to Florida without a trailer can expect to pay out plenty or sleep with Hobo Pete in the tie back of the water tank.

The conversation getting around to what kind of folks have money, it was agreed that you can't tell by appearances. Money is where you find it. And often it is found in an old tin can under the floor of the miser's shack.

HEAD OF LETTUCE—No, you can't tell by appearances, agreed a lawyer at the table, and related the story of a doctor friend of his who operated on a bedraggled specimen who had every appearance of abject poverty. After the operation the patient was resting in bed at the hospital and the surgeon came in to check up. It was certainly a charity case, the member of the medical society decided.

"How much do I owe you for this operation," asked the patient as the doctor prepared to leave.

"Well, let's see," said the physician, mentally marking down his services below cost to meet the situation, "about $75."

The suspected case for charity reached under his pillow, drew out a roll of bills as large as a head of lettuce, peeled off a few of the outer leaves, paid his doctor bill and contentedly tucked the rest away for another rainy day.

PAPPY DONE TOL ME—The banker member of the group came right back with a story about the man who came to a banking institution in an Upper Peninsula city and said he wanted to deposit some money on which he would draw occasionally. Oh yes, he was assured, checking accounts were very convenient.

But the man from the woods didn't mean a checking account. From the floor he lifted a large tin pail and pried off the cover—there to reveal the pail filled with silver dollars. All he wanted was to leave the pail in the bank for safekeeping, and come back to tap his hoard of silver occasionally.

"My God," said the banker, astounded, "why do you insist on having your money in silver?"

"Well, a long time ago my Pappy told me you couldn't trust this paper money, but if you had silver it was always worth the price of silver anyway," said the ambulating silver mine.

The man must have decided to spend some of his dollars, said the banker, because the town was flooded with silver cartwheels for several weeks thereafter.

IT'S INFLATIONARY—Illustrative of the times is a story with an Escanaba locale. It also has to do with money.

A local woman, who had long wanted to rid her house of an out-moded wood-burning cook stove, placed an ad in the paper and waited for results. She had decided that:—Because of the age of the stove; and —Because it burned wood, she would ask a price of not more than $2—and

G. I.—VETERANS SERVICE
Q. Does the term "veteran" necessarily mean a person who is old in service?

A. No; as the term is used by the Veterans' Administration, it usually means a man or woman who was formerly a member of the armed forces—Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard—regardless of length of service or age of the person. The service may have been in time of war or it may have been in other than time of war.

Q. Does national service life insurance contain any restrictive provisions respecting military service, occupation, or travel which might limit the protection under the insurance retained after discharge from service?

A. No.

Q. May a veteran be eligible, if otherwise entitled to education or training, who was discharged with other than an honorable discharge?

A. The law provides that a veteran shall have been discharged or released from active service under conditions other than dishonorable.

OF GENERAL INTEREST
Q. Some time during the World War I, a U. S. Senator was killed while hunting. Can you tell me who the Senator was, who shot him and when and where the accident occurred?

A. Senator Paul O. Husting of Wisconsin was accidentally shot and killed by his brother Gustave Husting while on a hunting expedition at Rush Lake, Wis., on October 21, 1917.

Q. Does human hair live as long as the person or is it continually being renewed?

A. The average length of life of human hair is 1,600 days and it grows about half an inch a month.

Q. What is considered to be the first fixed date in history?

A. James Harvey Breasted says it is 4241 B. C., the year the ancient Egyptians introduced the calendar of 365 days.

good riddance to the thing.

First callers in response to the advertisement were two men from the country, who said the stove was just what they wanted for their camp. Fine, the woman agreed, fearing they would change their minds.

Next to come up was the question of price. The men asked the woman how much she would take for the stove, and she, afraid the $2 she had thought the right price might be too high, asked them to set the price.

"How about $10," said one of the men.

"What!" exclaimed the amazed housewife.

"Alright," said the man resignedly, "we'll give you $15 then."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—White House reports that President Truman plans to fire his old friend Jimmy Byrnes as Secretary of State and replace him with Gen. George Marshall have sent shivers of apprehension up and down the spinal columns of Latin American diplomats.

They recall that it was General Marshall who during the early days of the war wrote the most high-handed directives regarding Latin American sovereignty since Frank B. Kellogg sent the marines to Nicaragua.

Ignoring the fact that Brazil and Ecuador both were anxious to cooperate in the war and became our Allies, Marshall demanded that certain bases be seized by the United States immediately. The fact that these were sovereign nations and had something to say about their own territory apparently made no difference to the General. Only the restraining hand of Sumner Welles, then under Secretary of State, prevented trouble.

Toward the end of the war, also, General Marshall was held responsible for drafting a directive, later issued under Roosevelt's name, ordering the State Department to keep permanent peacetime military bases in Brazil and Ecuador. The directive gave the State Department no alternative in the matter. It was commanded to secure these bases—regardless of the wishes of the Latin American countries whose soil was involved.

This brusque attitude regarding peacetime bases is one reason for the serious cooling off of Pan-American Goodwill. Various Latin American countries were glad to give us bases during the war as an emergency measure, but they do not want American troops permanently on their soil.

Note—the proposed appointment of General Marshall as Secretary of State appears to be part of the growing trend toward militarizing the U. S. diplomatic service. Truman has now appointed Gen. Bedell Smith as Ambassador to Russia, Adm. Alan Kirk as Ambassador to Belgium, Gen. John Hildring as assistant Secretary of State, Gen. Frank Hines as Ambassador to Panama, with General Marshall already serving as Ambassador to China.

ATOMIC DICTATORS

It's hard to believe, but army brass hats are blocking the return to the USA of Dr. Nils Bohr, Danish Nobel Prize Winner and the Father of Modern Atomic Science.

They don't want it known, but the army has also turned thumbs down on a visit by Joliot Curie, Madame Curie's son, another atomic scientist, on the grounds that they don't want American scientists talking to Foreign scientists.

Amazing thing is that the army takes this view despite the fact that the atomic bomb discovery was made possible only by the contributions of Italian, American, German, Polish and Czech scientists. Without their collaboration, its discovery would have been impossible.

However, the army is now waging an intensive campaign to pass the fascist May-Johnson bill, which would permit the army to go into any university and remove any professor, would even set up military courts in peacetime with precedence over civilian courts to put civilians in jail. Hence, the present army scare propaganda regarding consultation between scientists.

WHAT PRICE NAVY AWARDS?

Here is one reason why naval reserves aren't jumping with alacrity to sign up again in Secretary Forrestal's Navy.

It escaped unnoticed, but one officer charged with negligence in the sinking of the USS Indianapolis actually was awarded the Legion of Merit.

Furthermore, he got this honor, one of the highest in the Navy, after the sinking of the Indianapolis and at a time when the Navy should have known he had been negligent. The officer in question is Capt. A. N. Granum, who has the dubious distinction of holding the Legion of Merit and also an official reprimand, both covering duty at the same time and place.

Perhaps the secret of his Legion of Merit is that Granum is an Annapolis graduate.

Anyway, when the Indianapolis was overdue at Leyte, Captain Granum had its route, speed and estimated time of arrival. A magnetized board, showing the location of all vessels and corrected every eight hours, showed that the Indianapolis was long overdue. A written report covering a 24-hour period from midnight to midnight, showing the Indianapolis was overdue, was shown Captain Granum.

It was then his duty to organize a search, using all available ships and planes. This was not done.

Get eight hours sleep, eight hours play and eight hours work and you won't have any time left for worry.

INTANGIBLE TAX DEADLINE NEAR

Assistance Offered In Submitting Returns By March 31

On Thursday, March 14, representatives of the Michigan Department of Revenue will be at the council chambers in the city hall, Escanaba, between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. for the purpose of assisting taxpayers in the preparation of their intangible tax returns due not later than March 31, 1946.

Intangible personal property subject to the tax includes all mortgages, land contracts, bank accounts, cash, postal savings accounts, accounts and notes receivable, corporate stocks, corporate bonds and other similar types of property. However, all United States bonds, including war bonds, are exempt from the tax, and the tax on deposits in Michigan banks and building and loan associations, as well as stocks in Michigan banks, will be paid to the Department of Revenue directly by the banks and loan associations.

Under the present law as amended by the legislature in 1945, all corporate stocks are 100 percent taxable including Michigan corporations.

The department has issued a warning to all owners of property, such as is outlined above, to file the necessary return forms prior to March 31. The Revenue Department is constantly engaged in checking stockholders' lists, mortgage records, income tax returns and other data for the purpose of discovering evasions of the Intangible Tax Act. Failure to file a return when a tax is due subjects the taxpayer to severe penalties.

In addition to assisting taxpayers in the preparation of their returns, H. C. Nelson will also be glad to advise any person concerning his liability, if any, under the Intangible Tax Act.

Those desiring this advice or assistance are requested to bring with them full information concerning their holdings, including the face or par value, and income received therefrom during the year 1945 and copy of their 1944 return filed with the department.

Donald Goulais To Receive Degree At Michigan State

Donald K. Goulais, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Goulais, 711 South Tenth street, is one of the 88 Michigan State College students who are candidates for degrees at the close of the winter term, March 16.

Donald is enrolled in the Business Administration course, majoring in accounting, and will take post-graduate work until June, when the graduates will be awarded their degrees.

He returned to school on Jan. 2 of this year, after 30 months in the Air Corps where he served as a fighter pilot of a P-51. Before entering service, he attended Michigan State college, and is a graduate of Escanaba high school.

An average of 2740 passenger is dropped out of service each day during the past four years. Retirement total for the four years is about 4,000,000 cars.

Local Share In Airport Cost Still Undetermined

Tracy Southworth, chief airport inspector for the Michigan Department of Aeronautics, conferring with local officials in connection with the proposed construction of a new airport in Escanaba, said Wednesday in an interview that the share of the cost to be borne by the local sponsors of such projects has not been determined.

There has been no estimate so far on the total cost of acquiring the proposed airport site, and developing it for use, Southworth said.

The city council of Escanaba has submitted a bid to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for the appraisal value of 1,700 acres of government-owned property in the northern section of the city, where the government constructed ore docks during the war emergency. The docks have now been removed and the land is being disposed of.

No Estimated Costs

It is the western portion of this property, west of US 2-41 and south of the county infirmary, that is proposed as a site for the new airport. Difficulties have been encountered in acquiring the property and a committee composed of C. W. Stoll, Carl Nelson and City Atty. Denis McGinn are now in Minneapolis conferring with RFC officials.

Southworth said that the Michigan Department of Aeronautics had favored the site over the present airport location because of natural advantages, including freedom from occasional shore fogs, and longer clear approaches to runways. The new location is also more centrally located to serve the population in this area, he added.

On the question of financing, Southworth said that no figures on estimated cost are yet available. Under a federal program already approved, the government would make funds available by July 1 to assist in financing airport construction on projects recommended by federal and state airport officials.

At Least 50 Percent

The federal program provides for matching funds up to 50 percent of the cost for development of airports, including lighting, if the port is to be used for night flying, construction of runways, and certain buildings except hangars, Southworth said.

The state of Michigan has set aside one million dollars which is to assist the 83 counties of the state in part in matching federal funds for airport projects, Southworth added. The state does not contemplate sharing in the cost to any large degree, he said.

This would mean, so far as airport project finance plans have progressed so far, that the county or city or community sponsoring such a project would be expected

In his report that Escanaba must be either a northern terminal of the route, or a stop.

In the allocation of federal funds the recommendations of the CAB and the Civil Aeronautics Authority is expected to be important, he said. Cities which have been designated as terminals or stops may be expected to receive special consideration, Southworth added.

The bride wore a brown suit with aqua accessories, and a shoulder bouquet of orchid sweet peas and pink asters. She was attended by Mrs. Art Levesque, who wore a soldier blue suit with black accessories and a shoulder bouquet of red roses. Art Levesque was best man.

Mrs. Sodergren chose for her daughter's wedding a blue and black jersey dress, accented by a shoulder bouquet of pink carnations and sweet peas. Mrs. Lantagne wore a black jersey dress and her flowers were also pink carnations and sweet peas.

Following the ceremony, a dinner was served to 25 guests, and a supper to 38 guests at the home of the bridegroom's parents. A three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple centered the table, which was decorated in pink, blue and white.

The newly married couple are residing at the Lantagne home in Danforth.

TANGERINES

Do you know that TANGERINES got their name from a mistaken idea of their origin? The Tangerine, one of the earliest cultivated fruits, was originally grown in China. There and later in England, it was called the Mandarin Orange because it was considered SUPERIOR to the Orange. (A Mandarin in China is a public official and is considered very superior to the common people).

From China, Spanish explorers took this fruit to the Mediterranean regions and from Tangiers, Morocco, it came to America.

As this sensitive cousin of the Orange (thin skinned) came from Tangiers, it became known in America as the Tangerine.

Frank Stolpe, 76, Dies In Marquette

Marquette—Frank Stolpe, 76, resident of Marquette for half a century and, until his retirement in 1940, employed in St. Luke's hospital as anesthetist, orderly and general aide, died in that hospital yesterday afternoon at 2:30 after a year's illness. He had been a patient in the hospital one week.

Mr. Stolpe, voted Marquette's most valuable citizen two years before his retirement, was an efficient and untiring worker. He gave up 52 years of his life to hospital service and was connected with St. Luke's from the time of its founding in 1896, the year he came to Marquette, until 1938.

Hospital trustees, staff members and employees expressed great regret at Mr. Stolpe's retirement, declaring "we have lost a great friend, a 'fixture' at St. Luke's who was always willing to lend a hand whenever needed, but he said he believed, at the age of 71, the time had come for him to step aside. There was no farewell party because he requested there be none, saying "I would rather just walk out quietly."

New York ranks highest of all states in the Union in the number of recorded cases of kleptomania.

ENGLISH BRIDE VISITING HERE

Mrs. George N. Olson
Arrives From London Recently

Reunited after a separation of several months are Mr. and Mrs. George N. Olson and their 8-month-old daughter, Janet, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. Olson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Olson, 1503 Wisconsin avenue.

Mrs. Olson and Janet left Southampton, England, on Feb. 23, aboard the SS Washington, and arrived in New York on March 2. Mr. Olson met the min Chicago on March 4, the occasion of Mrs. Olson's birthday.

Mrs. Olson likes America. Questioned yesterday about her impressions of this country, she said, "I like the people... they are all so friendly." She confesses that she sometimes has a little difficulty understanding American slang. Among the things which she finds most amazing are the shops, which have so much more merchandise than the English stores. And she loves American ice cream.

Mr. and Mrs. Olson were married in London on April 8, 1944. Mr. Olson met his bride, the former Doris E. Boyce, while he was serving in the Navy as a Machine Gunner's Mate First Class. He received his discharge at Great Lakes, Ill., in October, after three and one-half years of service.

After a visit here at the home of his parents, Mr. Olson left yesterday for Ludington, where he is employed. Mrs. Olson and Janet will join him in a few days, and they plan to make their home there.

LOCAL SCHOOL SUPPORT LOW

Fact Is Revealed In Recent Report At Supt. Meeting

Unfavorable publicity to the effect that Manistique ranks low among the larger cities of the Upper Peninsula in support of schools is confirmed by data compiled for a report given before school board members and superintendents at their annual meeting held recently in Marquette.

Following is a table, submitted by A. F. Hall, local school superintendent, showing the number of dollars per thousand of valuation levied for operating expenses by the twelve largest cities of the area for 1946-1947.

The figures show the tax rate, in dollars, per $1,000 valuation for school operating expense:

Bessemer, $20.00; Iron Mountain, $15.40; Negaunee, $13.10; Menominee, $12.70; Iron River, $10.00; Escanaba, $9.20; Sault Ste. Marie, $9.10; Ishpeming, $8.10; Stambaugh, $6.80; Iron River, $6.50; Manistique, $5.90; Kingsford, $4.00; Marquette, no data.

4-H CLUB WEEK OBSERVED HERE

Window Display Shows Results Of Project Accomplishments

A display in a local store window of articles prepared by young people of the rural areas of Schoolcraft county is emphasizing the observance of 4-H club week.

The various articles shown in the window display are samples of some of the home projects in which 4-H club members are engaged in at this time under the supervision of Gladys Mercier, county club worker.

Observance of 4-H club work is national in its scope and both President Harry S. Truman and Governor Harry F. Kelly have endorsed it with proclamations.

President Truman, in his statement in behalf of the 4-H club movement declared "This is one of the ways in which we can build the kind of youth the United States needs—strong, skilled, informed and articulate—and it is one of the important means we have of demonstrating to the world what youth can accomplish through democracy and good citizenship."

In proclaiming the observance of National 4-H club week, Governor Kelly re-stated the 10 guideposts as outlined for the nation's 4-H clubs, and mentioned that

- these points might serve also as guideposts for adults who seek solution for the world's ills. The national guideposts are:
1. Developing talents for greater usefulness.
  2. Joining with friends for work, fun and fellowship.
  3. Learning to live in a changing world.
  4. Choosing a way to earn a living.
  5. Producing food and fiber for home and market.
  6. Creating better homes for better living.
  7. Conserving nature's resources for security and happiness.
  8. Building health for a strong America.
  9. Sharing responsibilities for community improvement.
  10. Serving as citizens in maintaining world peace.

There are approximately 900 species of flowering plants, trees, and ferns on the Hawaiian islands.

There will be two important track meets in Escanaba this spring under the sponsorship of the Escanaba high school. The first will be the district track and field meet, which has never before been held in Escanaba, and the U. P. Relays which has been a fixture here for 20 years. For many years the district meet was held at Iron Mountain but Menominee staged the event last spring. This year the state athletic association asked the Escanaba high school to conduct the district meet.

The district track and field meet is a state-sponsored event and team trophies and individual awards are provided by the state association. Place winners in the district meet qualify for the upper peninsula finals held annually at Houghton under the direction of Michigan Tech. The district meet is run in three classes—B-C-D—with a full slate of events in each class. The Eskymos are defending champions in the Class B district competition.

Baseball is spreading like wild-fire south of the border, down men.

Notre Dame's well-balanced track squad has been installed as favorites in the 19th annual track and field championships while Michigan State's National A. A. U. champions are considered a cinch to grab their fourth consecutive C. C. C. tank title.

Jump Into Mexico Rumor, Says Feller

Clearwater, Fla., March 7 (AP)—Bob Feller, Cleveland Indians fireball pitcher, today classed as "strictly a rumor" a report that he had been offered $100,000 a year for three years to jump to the Mexican League.

Feller said flatly that "no one has approached me with any such offer."

Marion planned to arrive at the Cardinal Camp in St. Petersburg, Fla., Monday or Tuesday after a stopover in Atlanta, Ga., to meet his wife.

With Marion in the fold, Third Baseman George Kurowski remained the only holdout.

Greenberg Is Not Tempted By Pesos

Lakeland, Fla., March 7 (AP)—Big Hank Greenberg can't be coaxed away from the Detroit Tigers by a sheaf of Mexican pesos, he declared today.

Informed that President Jorge Pasquel of the Mexican League wants him to hang his sombrero south of the border next year, Hank issued a Greenberg short.

"I never heard of the guy," he commented. "And I haven't heard anything from him. What's more, I'm not interested."

Bobby Feller, Cleveland's ace pitcher, reportedly offered $100,000 a season by the Mexican League, and Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox outfielder, also being eyed from Mexico City, were not reached for comment.

Boudreau Pleased With Attitude Of His Ball Players

BY WHITNEY MARTIN
Clearwater, Fla., March 4 (AP)—The rain fell with nagging persistence and the Cleveland Indians' practice field was soggy and forlorn, so there was nothing for the Indians to do but do nothing.

Manager Lou Boudreau, very handsome and very pleasant and very young for his job, was talking freely about his club in the hotel headquarters. He admitted that aside from good pitching he couldn't tell much about it except that it was his type of club.

"I mean I have a bunch of players who are out to win, even at the sacrifice of personal glory," he explained. "The other clubs have name players coming back, like the Dimagios and Ted Williams and Dick Wakefield, and they know about what those players should do. The only name player we have back is Bob Feller, and we have him even better than the service—Ken Keltner is fit."

Feller walked by, stopping briefly to issue an invitation for a trip on his 27-foot boat. The former boy wonder looked fit, maybe a little thinner than we remembered him but carrying enough pounds.

"He's been running a baseball school and is in shape," Boudreau commented when Feller departed. "This year means a lot to him. It will show if he has reached his peak and is on the way down, or still on the upgrade. I don't think he has quite as much speed as he had when younger, but he's still faster than most of them. He has a fine curve and such control that he will hook it in there on a two-and-one or three-and-one count."

Coach Oscar Melillo ambled past and Boudreau called him over to ask him if he was going on Feller's boat trip. Melillo said he wasn't interested.

"You'll never get me on a boat again," he amplified. "I went out once and that was enough. We'd gone about a block and a half and I began to get sick. After we'd gone half a mile I offered the fellow $50 to turn back. The man who hired the boat wouldn't let him, but after we'd gone another half mile he got sick too, so we turned back. That cured me of boat rides."

Somebody asked Melillo if he'd like a bottle of milk, and he grinned and said: "You know, Billy wouldn't speak to me for a year and a half after that."

Hidden Ball Trick
It seems that Melillo and Billy Rogell lived in the same neighborhood. Melillo was older and already a major league ball player when Rogell was delivering milk. Melillo was quite a hero to the boy milkman, and when Billy came to Oscar's house on his early morning rounds he place the bottle carefully on the doorstep, then call loudly: "Oh Mr. Melillo, here's your milk." The aroused Mr. Melillo would grumble and try to go back to sleep.

Several years later Rogell was playing for the Detroit Tigers and Melillo was still playing second base for the Browns. Rogell reached second on a play, then wandered away from the bag, thinking the pitcher had the ball. Melillo was over to him.

"Remember those mornings you used to wake me up delivering milk?" he asked softly, Billy nodded.

"Well, here's the ball," Melillo said, reaching out and tagging Billy quite vehemently. "I've been waiting a long time to get even with you."

Melillo is still as crisp and peppy as ever, and he's got a husky bunch of kids to work with, "My type of boys," Boudreau says with satisfaction. Only Keltner, Feller and Ray Mack remain of the team he took over as manager four years ago. That's cleaning house with a blow torch.

TED WILLIAMS JUST 27 NOW

Boston Power Hitter Is Sure Of Many Big Days Ahead

By AL VERMEER
NEA Staff Correspondent

New York—Boston's ambitions for an American League championship—first in 28 years—take on a new glow this spring when long and rubbery Ted Williams returns to the baseball battlefields following three years as a flying Marine.

Thumping Ted cannot do it alone. In 1941 he blasted .406, first American League player to reach that height, since Harry Hellmann's .403 in 1923, and a year later he again led with .356 and still no pennant flew over Fenway Park. But 1946 finds the Red Sox a serious contender and the explosive bat of Williams is the backbone of their threat.

Veterans claim he ranks with Joe Jackson and Babe Ruth when it comes to hitting ability, but that he would surpass Ruth's 60-home run record to shreds if he played at Yankee Stadium instead of Fenway Park, where the right field stands are 380 feet away.

Because of his free and natural swing, Williams is expected to be just as good as he was in 1942, although he spent the interim in actual service, not as a ball-playing soldier or sailor.

Indeed, there is reason to believe he may even be better than his pre-war standards—for the Marines must have done something to subdue the peculiar Williams temperament.

Williams was susceptible to taunts from the stands and rival players. The trade calls it rabbit ears. More than once he fell into a fit of rage because his skin was too thin to ward off barbed remarks. Once, in a weak moment, he expressed a wish to become a fireman. The White Sox drove him to distraction by sabotaging in front of their dugout in firemen's hats and rubber coats, and screaming like sirens.

Swinging In The Outfield
Williams always loved to hit. In his freshman days with the San Diego Coasters, Williams stood in right field, swinging an imaginary bat, as he anxiously awaited his licks.

Until the importance of defense was pointedly explained to him, he thought playing the outfield was just something to do in between times at bat.

Fatherless and with his mother a Salvation Army woman, Williams spent his boyhood afternoons with his most cherished companion—a baseball bat.

In 1935, when he was only 17 the home-town San Diego club was attracted by his fluid swing. He hit only .271, but old-timers gaped at his well-oiled action at the plate. It seemed he had no elbows—that his arms were made of rubber. The next summer he went up to .391, hit 33 home runs. It was easy to see the way to greatness. The Red Sox purchased him for 1938 delivery.

Greeting manager Joe Cronin at the Sarasota camp one morning, young Ted said, "How ya sport?" He flatly refused to wear a necktie in the dining rooms of fancy hotels. So he was sent to Minneapolis, with which outfit he led the American Association with .366.

There was no holding a boy like this. He returned to Boston in 1939, compiling a four-year batting average of .356, manufacturing 127 homers and batting in 513 runs.

Williams hounded Harry Heilmann to learn how the old Detroit led the league in hitting four times. He paid scant attention to Hughie Duffy until he heard the venerable Red Sox coach hit .428 in 1904. From that day he followed little Hughie about like an adoring collier.

Williams amazed 55,000 spectators in the 1941 All-Star Game in Detroit by smacking one of Claude Passeau's deliveries for a ninth-inning home run which bounced off the 90-foot roof of the right field stands at Briggs Stadium and thumped into Trumbull Avenue, beating the National Leaguers, 7-5.

That was one of his big days. Only 27, many more big days await Ted Williams.

The expression "oyez," used in announcing the opening of court, was introduced into England by the Normans.

In Memoriam
 In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Arthur Gangstad, who passed away two years ago today, March 8, 1944.
 The rolling stream of life rolls on,
 But still the vacant chair
 Reminds the love, the voice, the smile,
 Of one who once sat there.
 Beyond the sunset has gone,
 And still his memories linger on.
 Sadly missed by his wife,
MRS. ARTHUR GANGSTAD
 AND SONS ROY AND RAYMOND.
